Mr Booth’s Head of Year Message

Year 7, Week 2

Hi all,

Hope you are all doing OK...just a few messages from me that might help over the next few days/ weeks.

"If online, be kind"

Social media and being online is obviously a big temptation during a time like this. It can be used really positively to keep in contact with friends as groups. We have talked a lot about this during the year but now is the time to remember that using kind and positive messages really can help others at the moment. Someone else may be having a more difficult time than you and need your kind words.

1. Try to keep up with your work but don't worry if some is difficult or you can’t do it. You won't get negative comments or detentions or things like that. It's just important to try and keep your education and learning going. A routine might help - try to start at the same time each day and work through a few different subjects each day.

2. Make a list of things you don't understand or are unclear with your work. You can then e-mail or reply via google classroom each week to ask your teacher.

Remember - google classroom - class charts - e-mail........these are where work is....

If anyone (or parents) need class chart codes or help with google classroom then please e-mail me.

There are two presentations from Mrs Cartledge you can look at as well.

Take care and stay safe.

Mr Booth
