Mr Booth’s Head of Year Message

Year 8, Week 6

Hi everyone,

Hope you are ok and doing the best you can.....

You may be aware that lockdown conditions are changing a little this week - although you will still be doing home learning and not at school at the moment.

My key message this week is

'Keep staying safe and don't take any risks'.

Sometimes in life taking risks can prove a good idea. Now is definitely not that time. As mature young people please keep being responsible in different areas of life. If you are outside your house you must distance yourself from other people and you shouldn't be meeting up with other people - this is still too much of a risk so please remember that.

We have talked before about how our actions affect other people and that is something to think about again this week as things change a little. To get back closer to ‘normal’ we all need to be responsible and that way we can look after those around us too. I am sure you all know this but please remember it.....

Have a look through Mrs Cartledge's presentations as there are some interesting slides on both how to keep going and also what positive impact this has had on the environment. This is something we can think about as a positive of the current situation.

Remember:
1) Keep up with your work but please tell us if you have any difficulties - e-mail your teachers, e-mail me....
2) Stay safe - physically but also when online
3) Stay as active as you can but stick to the rules

Keep going Year 8 - you are doing brilliantly

Mr Booth
