Mr Booth’s Head of Year Message

Year 8, Week 8

Hi everyone,

Hope you are all ok and keeping up with your work. Remember to keep using class charts and google classroom so you can access your different subjects. We are still using the KS3 timetable that was sent out last half term.

Although the news and much of life is still dominated by Covid 19 and it's different effects there has also been some important, yet troubling news in the USA in the last week. The police brutality towards George Floyd and the reaction to this shows us how racism can lead to horrific actions, Studying history also reveals how this isn't new but yet so alarming that we are still dealing with this in 2020.

How can racism be stopped and eliminated?

This is a big question but something we have talked about this year. It is well worth thinking about how small actions everywhere can lead to an overall reduction in the amount of racism. Maybe some of you have some ideas of how we can go further to prevent and stop such disturbing things happening?

Mrs Cartledge goes into more detail on this in the News Review attached so please have a good look. There is also some really interesting stuff on how change can affect us in the lockdown presentation.

1. Keep up with work - it's never too late to start
2. Stay safe - at home and online
3. Let me know any problems with school work etc. you might be having.

Thanks everyone,
Mr Booth
