Mr Booth’s Head of Year Message

Year 7, Week 9

Hi everyone,

Hope everyone is OK, even if some of you may have found recent times difficult. There is always hope and we need to be tough and resilient.

"Stick at it, keep going and grow your resilience"

Being resilient means a few different things. It can mean to keep going when things are difficult and to accept problems and face up to them. I will be really impressed if you can all keep going through this situation and do your bit. This means trying your best with your school work. If you are having problems with accessing lessons, using ICT or whatever it might be then please let me know. It is never too late to get started with your work if you have had problems so far.

Thanks to everyone who has sent me examples of what you have been doing. Some interesting work from the R.E. lessons on Black Lives Matter. There are lots of issues here and Mrs Cartledge has focused on this in the News Review attached. You will study slavery and Britain’s role in this when you are in Year 8 but if anyone has any questions on this you can ask me as I teach this!

Keep going with work, ask teachers if unsure, let me know if you are still having problems.........stay safe everyone when outside and when online.

Look after yourselves
Mr Booth
