MAKE EVERY DAY COUNT

Hi Year 10,

I hope that this newsletter finds you and your loved ones in good spirits and good health.

I am sure you are all aware that lockdown restrictions have begun to be eased and that people in the UK are trying to adjust to a new set of guidelines. Everybody has a role to play in making sure that this is a success. This whole process has been a real challenge to all in society and will continue to bring further challenges as we move forward.

You will, of course, all be aware of the plans to reopen schools to all pupils in September. The idea of returning to school may seem daunting to some of you, however you can rest assured that BGS is striving to make sure that you will be able to return to a safe and secure environment. This particular challenge is one that you will all have a role to play in. We all need to make sure that we approach next year with an excellent attitude, an eagerness to learn and engage alongside a real determination to "make every day count". I know that the vast majority of you will be ready for this challenge, it is obvious that there is already really good practice from a wide proportion of the year group. This has been demonstrated again by those attending lessons in school, but also by those of you who have consistently engaged with the home learning schedule, I have received so many emails from your staff telling of your dedication and hard work. I want to say a massive "well done", you really are a credit and brilliant example to our year group.

Following on from Mrs Priestley last week, here is a quick message from Miss Blakeborough representing the maths faculty

"Hi Year 10,
The maths department is so excited to see you all again and to help you get ready for your GCSEs next year. Be ready to work hard but know that we will be with you every step of the way. Your parents have been emailed a monthly calendar so you can do a bit of maths over summer - it is only one question a day! It will keep your brain ticking over but make sure to rest and enjoy your summer as best you can, we can't wait to see you."

If you have any questions please feel free to email Miss Blakeborough.

Best wishes and stay safe
Mr Brown and Mr Bridge
